

Begin taking college classes while earning a high school credential.

It takes both academic and technical skills to make the connection from job to career. With CCR Connect, Wake Tech helps you get your high school credential and work toward a career—tuition free.

Wake Tech offers career preparation opportunities in College & Career Readiness that let you take select college classes while building your English language skills (in ESL) or earning a high school credential. Connect classes let you explore career options, and there are two co-enrollment pathways.
