Dear Dr. Boone:

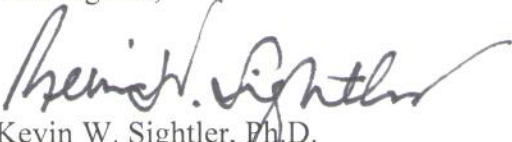

Thank you for the letter of November 16, 2017, notifying SACSCOC of your intention to offer two new Associate in Applied Science in Business Administration degree programs, effective fall 2018. The new programs are:

- Associate of Applied Science in Business Administration: Project Management
- Associate of Applied Science in Business Administration: Operations Management

The majority of the courses in both tracks are currently existing courses. In addition, the programs are closely related to other programs currently offered in Business Administration: Marketing, Global Business Management, and Human Resource Management. The College also offers programs in Hospitality Management and Supply Chain Management.

Since the new programs do not represent a significant departure from existing programs, we acknowledge the information and will add it to our files.

Best regards,

Kevin W. Sightler, Ph.D.
Director of Substantive Change
