The Associate in Applied Science (A.A.S.) degree program in Mobile Applications Developer and the Certificate programs in Android Applications Developer and iOS Applications Developer under this degree will be closed, effective May 1, 2020. The institution operated two versions of the Certificate program in iOS Applications Developer; one for high school students enrolled in the Career and College Promise program, and one for traditional students. Both versions will be closed.

The students enrolled in these programs are being contacted by email. They will have the option to complete the academic credential in which they are enrolled or transfer to another program. A two-year teach-out schedule has been developed for the students in the A.A.S. program in Mobile Applications Developer and a one-year teach-out schedule has been developed for students in the Certificate programs in Android Applications Developer and iOS Applications Developer. These students will not incur any additional expenses as a result of the program closures.
